British Troops Are Slowly Encircling Albert on North Part of Battle Line

CROSS ANCRE ON WIDE FRONT

Chaulnes is Under Heavy British Fire—Bombing Raids Along The Vesle

(By United Press.)

Paris, Aug. 16.—The Germans are giving away north of the Avre little by little. The French are progressing and threatening to envelope the enemy at Roze, the allied line already half encircling the city.

Rome, August 16.—Repulse of enemy attacks yesterday on both the mountain and river front was reported by the Italian war office today.

British Encircle Albert

London, Aug. 16.—British troops are slowly encircling Albert, Field Marshal Haig's statement indicated today. In addition to menacing the city from the south and west the British have crossed the Ancre on a wide front to the northward. Further progress south of Albert was also reported.

Additional progress toward Roze was announced by the Paris war office. General Humbert was reported in possession of the entire plateau south of Lassigny, dominating the whole southwestern corner of the battle front.

His troops have worked their way to within a mile and a half of Lassigny and are now pushing down the southern slope of the plateau.

The enemy position from Bray to Lassigny is most unfavorable. Transportation is greatly congested as the railroads are unavailable.

Chaulnes is under heavy British fire.

Germans Attempt Defense

With the American Army in France, Aug. 16.—Bombing of the rear areas along the Vesle continue otherwise this portion of the front is quiet. Patrols crossing the river at a new point, found the Germans had dug their entire line there and were strongly defending it with machine guns.

Three Italian soldiers captured near Soissons early in July reached the American line today. They told of the cruel treatment of allied prisoners in Germany and lack of food.

American airmen bombed the German railroad at Dommary and Barancourt near Metz. Explosions were observed in the central and southern portion of the yard which completely wiped out tracks and munitions.

Hindenburg's Plans Changed

With the British Army in France, Aug. 16.—The entire German army appeared to be in a state of complete flux.

Marshal Foch's blow on the Somme and the allied blow east of Amiens have apparently upset Marshal Von Hindenburg's drive necessitating an entire change of locality during the remainder of the campaign. German withdrawals north of Albert display this to some extent while appointment of Gen. Von Bochn is corroborating.

Germans Killed in War Put at Million and Half

Paris, August 16.—One million, five hundred and twenty thousand Germans have been killed during the war, a military critic estimated today. The enemy's total losses in killed, wounded and missing were estimated at six million, of which a big percentage were wounded and sent to the mines.

SEARCH SEA FOR WRECKAGE

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 16.—Naval officials on the receiving of news of the sinking of the Dorothy Barrett by a submarine, believed they destroyed the U-boat although the navy department is without complete proof, Secretary Daniels said today. The sea in the vicinity is being dragged and an attempt being made to find the submersible, which is believed to have gone to the bottom. It was attacked by depth bombs.

U-Boat Victims Recovered

An Atlantic Port, August 16.—The captain and 22 members of the crew of the Brazilian ship Madrugada, which was sunk by a submarine about 700 yards off the Virginia coast, were brought into port here today.

NEW DRAFT AGES MAY NOT SUPPLY ENOUGH

Hint Given by Gen. March That it May be Necessary to Enter Deferred Classes

U. S. ALLIES CAN'T AID MUCH

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 16.—A hint that the proposed new draft ages of 18 to 45 may be still further extended for the deferred classes before the war is won, was given by General March, chief of staff, who testified before the senate military committee today.

"It is not beyond the range of possibility that congress will have to authorize the taking of other classes in order to carry on the work," he is quoted in his testimony as saying.

He made it clear that there is little possibility of France or England aiding.

An appeal to congress to speed up on the draft bill was being voiced through the country today.

As it becomes clearer that America is in the fight to the finish, the people are demanding that nothing shall delay officials in executing the program under their charge.

FIVE CALLS YET TO BE FILLED IN AUGUST

Five Men Leave for Training Schools and Many More Are to Entrain This Month.

NEXT ONE FOR 8 COLORED MEN

Five Rush county military registrants left yesterday for schools for training mechanics at Indianapolis and Cincinnati. Robert Vredenburg, Albert J. Sweet and Clarence Sampson went to Indianapolis at 10:51 a. m., and Harry Karr and Edgar Bates left at 3:30 for Cincinnati.

One other group for mechanical training leaves yet this month, making four detachments which will have been sent during August. Byron S. Newhouse, Ralph Martin and Paul Schultz entrain August 28 for Valparaiso university to enter a training school.

Four other calls are yet to be filled this month. Three limited service men—Robert Hinshaw, Clay Havens and Vernace Burrows—will be sent to Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa, either August 30 or 31. Eight colored men will entrain for Camp Dodge during the five-day period beginning August 22. Six white men are to be sent to Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., during the five-day period beginning August 26. Two white selectives have been selected to go to Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., during the same period.

TO STOP ILLEGAL TRAFFIC IN BOOZE

Authorities Determined to Put End to Hauling Intoxicating Liquor

VIOLATORS FROM OHIO DETOUR

County authorities are determined to stop the traffic in booze from Ohio into Indiana, which is going on along the northern and southern borders of Rush county.

Since Deputy Sheriff Spivey arrested two negroes here with an automobile loaded with whiskey, others dealing in the illegal traffic in intoxicating liquors have been detouring around Rushville. The county authorities have received numerous reports of large "cargoes" of booze being hauled through Milroy and Raleigh and Mays. Not many days ago an automobile went through Mays pulling a trailer loaded with intoxicating liquor.

County officials are planning to catch some of these law violators if the law violations continue.

WAR TO END IN 1919

An Atlantic Port, August 16.—That the war will end during 1919 is the prevailing impression in France, according to Bishop Francis of the Episcopal of Indianapolis, and chaplain of Base hospital 32, who arrived here aboard a French liner Thursday.

REORGANIZE FOR 4TH LIBERTY LOAN

Meeting of The District Chairmen Held Today in Greensburg For Preliminary Plans

PAYNE REPRESENTS COUNTY

Rush County's Quota For Issue Will Doubtless Reach the Million Dollar Mark

With the opening date of the Fourth Liberty Loan drive only six weeks distant, Earl H. Payne has begun to reorganize the Rush county committee preparatory for an effective opening of the campaign.

A meeting of the chairmen and canvassers of this district was called for this morning at 10 o'clock in Greensburg when district plans of a preliminary nature were to be formed and all possible steps taken whereby the district may be able to put over the drive successfully in the allotted time. The campaign will open Saturday, Sept. 28.

Mr. Payne and R. E. Harrold attended the district meeting this morning and heard the plans which are being formulated for the coming drive. W. H. Wade, Indiana director of sales; Chester Jewett, vice-director; Walter Greenough, director of publicity, and George C. Forrey, director of the speakers bureau, were present and made short talks regarding their parts of the campaign.

A suggestion of the state director is that "conscience campaigns" be tried out in Indiana as a means of raising the quota. This scheme has been tried with success in some places in previous campaigns. The plan is to emphasize that people to subscribe are left alone with their conscience in deciding what they should do. Most county chairmen at the meeting today were willing to give the "conscience campaign" a trial, but they were practically unanimous in the opinion that there would have to be some soliciting as in the past.

All of the chairmen made short reports of the conditions in their counties and were asked to give their opinions on methods employed in previous campaigns. Practically all of them believed that the public meetings during Liberty Loan drives should not be done away with as was suggested from some quarters.

The publicity department of the state promised the Jackies band from the Great Lakes Training station for the forthcoming campaign, as an advertising feature; also an aeroplane flight to the various communities in the district.

The women's organizations in several of the counties of the district were represented and this phase of the campaign entered into the discussion by the workers.

The organization will be perfected along similar lines to those which brought the Third Liberty Loan to a successful close in the spring and with both the men and women committees working in harmony. Rush county does not expect to be daunted by the quota which might be placed in her hands for collection.

The national issue in the fall is for $6,000,000,000 and although Rush county's quota has not been definitely fixed, Chairman Payne stated today that it will doubtless approach the million dollar mark. Because Rush county set a pace for the entire district in the Third Liberty Bond issue, the local representatives are expected to figure prominently in arranging the program of district organization.

ALL SELECTED MEN ORGANIZE FACULTY ARE TO BE MARKED FOR WINTER TERM

New Regulations Received Here Provide For Arm Bands Bearing Letters U. S. N. A.

MEN SUBJECT TO PENALTIES

Under Military Discipline as Soon as Inducted Into Service—Assistants For Leader

In the future all drafted men leaving the county for cantonments, will be labelled, so to speak, for under a new order of the provost marshal general, each selected man, at the time he reports for duty will be given an arm band or brassard bearing the letters, "U. S. N. A." and the brassard shall be stitched to the left sleeve two inches above the elbow.

The new regulations also provide that in addition to the brassards for each selected man, the local board shall furnish and have stitched to the right sleeve of each leader and assistant leader an arm band on which shall appear the letters "S. P." This arm band of the leader and assistant leaders shall be placed on the right sleeve, two inches below the elbow. This "S. P." signifies special police.

A strict enforcement of the rules regarding the conduct of drafted men while enroute from their home stations to the army camps is the main object of these labels. In the past some of the men have gone into camp intoxicated and some boards have lost men through desertions, while enroute to camp. This, however, never prevailed in Rush county. Heretofore the new soldiers could not be distinguished from civilians and the new regulations will be a help in this respect.

The new regulations provide for the appointment of one leader for the entire party and then for each eight registrants an assistant leader shall be appointed. The leaders and assistant leaders will be appointed special military police by the local board and will be furnished with warrants of appointment and with copies of the regulations governing drafted men enroute to mobilization camps. The appointment of leaders and assistant leaders vest them under the warrant with power and authority to maintain good order in their contingents and squads; to part and quell all quarrels, frays and disorders among the men under their control and to search out, seize and confiscate all intoxicating liquor introduced among the registrants. Their authority does not extend to civilians.

The leader is required to keep a record of all violations, under the new rules, and all cases of disorderly conduct and damage to railroad property shall be reported to the commanding officer of the mobilization camp immediately upon the arrival of the men.

The local board was notified today that the arm bands or brassards were now in the course of being made and would be shipped as soon as possible. It is likely they will be used for the first time on the colored draftees going to Camp Dodge and on the men called for Camp Sherman and Camp Custer, the latter part of the month.

The rules point out that induction by the local board places the men under military discipline and subjects them to the penalties provided under the articles of war. Upon entraining the men will be assigned seats and thereafter will be required to occupy these seats as they would when traveling as civilians. At stops the men are not permitted to leave the train except upon the order or permission of the leader. The men themselves according to the instructions, are urged to remember that misconduct on their part reflects directly on the community from which they come. Under the new order copies of the regulations regarding

School Board and Superintendent Fill Six Vacancies Among High School Instructors

SCHOOL OPENS SEPTEMBER 9

A. M. Taylor Has Been Named High School Principal in Place of S. F. Stewart Who Resigned

After continuous negotiations which had been in progress with available high school instructors of this section of the country since early in June, the school board and Superintendent J. H. Scholl has succeeded in a complete reorganization of the faculty and everything is ready for the opening of the 1918-19 school term.

The closing of the last term found six vacancies in the faculty. S. F. Stewart, principal and instructor of mathematics, resigned his position and in addition, Miss Mary Williams, German instructor; Willis Crook, manual training; Dean Keith, history; O. M. Sutton, science, and Mrs. Louis Rawlings, English, signed up for work elsewhere.

A. M. Taylor, who has been connected with the schools of the county for a number of years has been elected high school principal by the school board. The term will open Monday Sept. 9 which is one week later than in former years. This delay is caused by the number of boys working on farms who will not have their farm work completed before this time, and in order that the habitual straggler might be avoided this year the date of opening has been delayed.

Miss Kathryn Zimmerman, who will instruct the high school English students during the coming term, has just finished the requirements for an A. M. degree from Columbia university and for the past three years was a member of the Attica high school faculty. Previous to her teaching experience Miss Zimmerman, who has been highly recommended for her work, received an A. B. degree from Indiana university.

The newly selected head of the manual training department, John R. Jones taught for the last three years in the New Carlisle schools and in Knightstown. Previous to that time he was engaged in similar work in Illinois. Since Mr. Jones is married it is not probable that the same uncomfortable circumstances which marked last term when the draft called two manual training instructors, will be repeated.

The place of Dean Keith as history instructor has been taken by Lawrence J. Scheidler, who has recently taught that subject in the Martinsville high school with marked success. He has an A. B. from Indiana university and has done work toward a higher degree in the University of Wisconsin.

The school board, which is composed of L. L. Allen, president; Dr. F. M. Sparks, treasurer, and Homer W. Cole, secretary has announced the following organization for the school year:

High School Department (Six Year Plan)

A. M. Taylor, Prin, Math.

Amusements
Animal Act With Robinson Shows.
We who see wild animals in cages realize the vast amount of trouble, danger and expense necessary to get them there. The greatest danger lies in capturing the wild animals in their native country. With the John Robinson shows, which will give two performances in Rushville next Wednesday there are several hundred wild animals, most of which were captured in the forest and jungles of their native country.
There is not a more ticklish or dangerous task than tracking lions in the vast Nubian deserts. For capturing full-grown lions large traps of various forms are used. One trap is square, one of the sides lifting upon a spring-like the old fashioned mouse trap. This trap is baited with a piece of fresh meat, and as soon as the lion has entered the trap the door shuts down and he is prisoner. More than a score of lions with the John Robinson Circus were captured in this manner.
Elephants are generally caught in nooses. A number of men surround the elephant after they have previously formed a circle of fire about the beast. The fire gets closer and closer to the elephant and finally a noose is thrown over his head. He is then securely tied to a tree and allowed to remain there until quiet. Tame elephants are then brought in to use and appear to be sort of persuasive in making the huge animals tractable.
Tickets will be on sale show day at Pitman and Wilson's drug store at the same prices charged at the grounds.

Another patriot charges nothing for the suggestion that a fleet of balloons carrying powerful magnets attached to cables, be sent over the German armies. You don't see? Why, the magnets will pull the guns out of the Heinies' hands, and the tin hats off their heads, of course. Then the Allies will just turn loose a little shrapnel upon the unarmed and uncovered hosts of Hohenzollern, and the war will be over. That's the idea. End the war.

The moon worries a lot of inventors. That's why they're called loony, from Luna, the polite society name for the orb of night, which always has had a strange influence over persons afflicted with —er unusual turns of mind.

One patron of the British mails wishes the ministry of the munitions to cover the moon with a big balloon, not only because of the rhyme and harmony that would result, but because the moon is friendly to the Huns. If anybody wants to use the moon, he'll find it covered up like a showcase on Sunday, and tugged, "Moon out of order until after the war." Another would blot out the moon by covering it with a beam of black light, whatever that is. Another wants to have the clouds frozen right where they stand and heavy artillery mounted upon them by British landing parties, operating from airplanes. Then, on a good, cloudy day, wipe out the Germans.

One genius would cover all available vacant land with big factories, get up a great fire in the boilers so as to throw out a lot of smoke, and blow the factory whistles to beat the band. This, of course, would attract the Heinies in their planes, and they would waste all their ammunition blowing up the factories, which would contain no workmen except those needed to fire the engines and blow the whistles. The Germans would go home in dire defeat.

Other recent suggestions include: Shoot shells filled with sick eoties and ailing fleas into the German lines. Squirt cement over the Heinies and petrify them.

Build a shell with steering gear, put a man inside, and direct him to drive right to the royal palace, Berlin and don't spare the horses.

Shoot snakes into the Hun trench by compressed air.

Let rockets carry live wires across No Man's Land.

Build a lawn mower, big as a tank, and make wienerwurst of the boches.

Skim the grease off your soup at luncheon, use it instead of gasoline in your motor car, and help win the war.

Build a tunnel to Potsdam and get the kaiser.

Spread wire nets over a large section of France; then retreat, luring the Germans on. When you've got them where you want them, roll up the nets and file your German armies away for reference.

If the "bone dry" amendment passes, the government will lose $300,000,000 in revenue taxes. But the public will save $300,000,000 in should-be put into tariff stamps.

BACK!
By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL
Back, evil-doing host of hell!
Back, Wilhelm, Scourge of God:
You come not now, with fiendish yell,
Defiling peaceful sod:
With dire disaster at your heels,
With blood upon your cannon-wheels,
Your homeward way you plod!
Your vile offense, your damning sin,
Will follow in your train,
Twill be before you in Berlin,
The cursed mark of Cain.
Above the battle's dismal roar
That plaintive cry goes on before,
The voice of babes in pain!
Back, base defilers of the fair!
Back, lowborn Prussian swine!
You do pollute the very air
Beyond your native Rhine!
A wasted land where your foul breath
Has wafted misery and death
Calls down Revenge Divine.
The boys from out the boundless West
(You said they would not fight)
Allow your fleeing host no rest.
But follow, day and night.
They'll follow to the tyrant's seat,
Where lindens line the royal street,
And wreck the throne of Might!

What We Did At Home

The largest shipment of beef products in any one month during this period has been 87,000,000 pounds, against the ordinary export of 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 pounds a month.

The largest export of pork in one month reached 308,000,000 pounds.

These supplies have been used to help feed the armies of France, Belgium, England, and to some extent Italy. Some of these foodstuffs have also been used for the civilian population of these countries.

It is a splendid record and shows that the care and self-sacrifice of its people have made the United States equal to its great task.

How much of this have you saved?

One Born Every Minute.

P. T. Barnum's famous expression revised to date, that there is a "war strategist" born every minute, holds good in England as well as America. It is no trouble at all to find on any street corner in any American city a man who can do the maneuvering on the west front better than Foch. In England the would-be Haigs are taking it out in writing the newspapers their views of ending the war.

One zealous Britisher has an idea that buzzards trained to fly to Essen and pick the mortar out of the chimneys of the Krupp gun works, will win the war, and has submitted it to the inventions department of the ministry of munitions.

The food administration has issued an interesting statement in which we can see the result of the food economies effected by our wheatless and meatless days.

July 1st, 1917, the wheat available for export was estimated at 20,000,000 bushels. In the period from that date to June 1st, 1918, our shipments of wheat to the allies amounted to 120,000,000 bushels.

The clash of accoutrements in our camps and cantonments sounds the death knell of Prussian militarism, and America's abundant wheat harvest will give it the coup de grace.

Now that the government has taken over the telephone wires, can we continue the accustomed telephone salutation? Is it polite, not to mention loyal, to address your government as "Hello?"

At present one of the most esteemed ornaments of a home is a preserve closet full of home-made preserves and fruit.

W. S. S. FUTURES ARE PAID RAPIDLY

Difficulty of Thrift Stamp Men to Collect Future Sales in District Not Noticed Here

STAMP MAN HERE YESTERDAY

Says Conditions Which Exist Here Are Ideal and Organization is Not Rivalled in District

The difficulty which War Savings stamp officials are meeting in the collection of future sales in various parts of the district has been lacking in this county where future purchases are being paid for with increasing rapidity as each week passes.

Fred Spriggs of Franklin who is traveling through the district looking up delinquent payments was extremely pleased with the situation of affairs as he found them here yesterday. He declared that no where in the district had he found conditions in such an ideal state and complimented the work of the organization highly.

"The efficient work of the commit-tee in the recent drive is still evident by the manner in which the future sales are coming in" he declared as he looked over the books which disclosed the payment of numerous large future sales which were not to fall due until the last of the year.

Rush county's sales thus far in August are tallying up excellently and will come up to the record mark set by the July sales if not surpass them by several hundred dollars. With the completion of the threshing season and an unusual amount of ready money at their command, residents of the rural districts especially, are stocking up heavily on War Savings stamps.

home of Dr. J. E. Walther.

The members of the Christian congregation here are planning the erection of a new church building.

Mrs. Clarence Carr last week accompanied her daughter Hazel and Frances Richardson to Columbus where the children underwent operations for the removal of their tonsils. Both are doing nicely.

The work on the new road is hindered by the scarcity of labor.

Mrs. E. V. LeWark, Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Walter Neidhart and Mrs. T. B. Wickliff were in Rushville Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Z. Williams, Mrs. Green Thompson and Mrs. Roland Murray were visitors in Rushville Thursday afternoon.

COMPLETE UNION SERVICES

Regular Sunday Evening Routine is Resumed in Churches

The union services which were the feature of the Sunday evening church services during the summer months, have come to a close and the regular program has again been resumed.

Through the decision of the ministerial association, the latter part of June and the month of July were given over to union services at which one local minister presides each evening. The services have become a part of the summer church work which, through the decision of the ministerial association, have become regular annual affairs.

Mrs. Richard Beale of North Harrison street who has been ill for a few days is improving.

Druggists Price Advance

For over a year now we have succeeded in maintaining our old price, principally by virtue of a big increase in sales, which reduced our overhead cost.

For our fiscal year ending July 1, 1918, our sales amounted to over a million dollars — an increase of 58% over the preceding year.

We had hoped to bridge the war period without a change in prices on but we find that our economies do not keep pace with our rising costs. It is with sincere regret, therefore, that we are forced to announce an increase, effective August 1, which will make it necessary to retail VapoRub at

SOMEWHERE IN THE

A social affair of interest to numerous Rush county people was the celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of John Thomas Gray and Mary McCrory Gray at the Christian church in Windfall, Ind., Tuesday. The affair was a most unique one and promptly at twelve o'clock, the ceremony hour fifty years before, Mr. and Mrs. Gray passed up the aisle of the church attended by A. B. Irvin of this city and Mrs. Ella Hamilton, who were among the guests at the wedding.

A beautiful anniversary service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Mavity of Indianapolis after which dinner was served to two hundred and twenty-five guests in the dining room of the church. The guests of honor were married in this city in 1868 and resided here until fifteen years ago.

The members of the New Salem M. E. Aid society were delightfully entertained by Mrs. D. C. Compton at her home in North Main street, Thursday afternoon. The rooms of the house were beautifully decorated for the occasion with sweetpeas and greenery and an interesting program was given consisting of the following numbers: Miss Mary Evelyn Kirk discussed the Scripture lesson, Miss Edna Mitchell of this city and Mrs. Shoupe of New Salem had charge of the Bible study, Miss Lavienna Compton gave a few interesting readings and monologues, and the musical feature of the program was a piano duet by the Misses Marian and Myrtle Sefton, and a violin solo by Miss Marianna Holman. At the close of the pleasant afternoon the hostess served light refreshments.

Hugh Jones entertained at his home near Carthage last night with an informal evening party in honor of out-of-town guests who are spending the week here. The guests included Miss Coletta McNamara of Dayton, O., Miss Allene Green, Miss Margaret Walters and Miss Margaret Holbrook, Albert Schlichte, Harry Hackman and Frank Kelly of Louisville, Ky.

Announcement has been received by Mrs. Ed Beer of the marriage of her nephew, Corporal Wallace Smith of Fort Thomas, Ky., to Miss Laura Craig of Wabash who was instructor in the commercial department of the

Here's Proof That Vinol Enriches The Blood

Bradford, Pa.—"I have used Vinol for impoverished blood. I was broken out with a rash and rundown so it was hard for me to keep about my work. After trying Beef, Iron and Wine and other medicines without benefit Vinol enriched my blood and improved my condition very rapidly."—Rose Lasky.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success in such cases to beef, and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating tonics.

HOW TO CURE CABBAGE

Select solid, well matured heads of cabbage, trim off all discolored outer leaves and injured portions, cut the heads in half and remove the central stalks. Cut into slices 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick by means of a kraut cutter or a rotary slicer, separating any large, compact pieces with a knife or by passing them a second time through the slicer. Blanch three minutes in steam in a wire basket made to fit into a washboiler over boiling water, or by dipping for two minutes into boiling water. Spread as evenly as possible, about 3 inch deep, breaking up compact masses, and go over the trays occasionally during the first few hours of drying to separate thick clumps.

Cabbage requires a considerable degree of watchfulness: the thick, fleshy midribs dry very much more slowly than thin leaves, which are prone to become browned or scorched if overheated. Consequently drying should be begun at 115 to 120 degrees and the temperature should not be allowed to exceed 130 degrees at any time. Continue the drying until no moisture can be crushed out of the larger pieces of midrib.

To dry cauliflower, trim out all discolored portions, cut into cubes or oblong pieces not larger than 3 inch in thickness. Blanch 5 to 6 minutes in steam, as directed for cabbage, or 4 minutes in boiling water. Spread the pieces in a single layer on the trays and dry at the temperature recommended for cabbage until no moisture can be pressed from crushed pieces. The discoloration which appears as the material dries will largely or wholly disappear when the product is soaked preparatory to cooking.

Prepare a good-sized packing box by lining it with a piece of muslin with which it may be covered to exclude insects. Place it in a warm room and out of direct sunlight. As the material—cabbage or cauliflower—as the case may be—becomes dry, place it in the box, stirring thoroughly as each new batch is added and at intervals of a day or two for ten days or two weeks after your work with this product is completed. The material will at first become quite flexible and leathery, but will gradually give up moisture to the air until it reaches a uniform, unchanging condition. It may then be packed into boxes lined with wax paper or put into muslin or paper bags which are placed, after tying tightly, in larger bags. If paper lined boxes are used, care must be employed to fold the wax paper closely at sides and top so that insects may not gain access to the material. Store the containers in a warm, dry place.

URSE CAMPAIGNERS TOMORROW EVENING

Intensive Campaign Will be Carried On During Final Day of Drive Featuring Recruiting Station

BLANKS MUST BE RETURNED

With only one day left for Rush county girls to enlist in the nurses reserve to enter training for military duty, Mrs. A. L. Stewart enrolling agent, is making preparation for a big, final drive tomorrow.

The county's quota of twenty nurses has not been reached because of the strict educational requirements which were taken into consideration but when all reports are tallied, Mrs. Stewart stated today that she expected the county's volunteer nurses would have reached a dozen.

Tomorrow afternoon and evening a recruiting station will be opened in the down town district of the city and will be in charge of some of the girls who have signed up for the special training course nurse reserve. Any prospective recruit may gain all of the information concerning the work which she desires by visiting the station where the enrolling agent will spend the entire afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Stewart has requested that any girls who have not returned their application blanks whether filled out or not, do so tomorrow at the down town recruiting station as this is the final day for the drive and the number of recruits obtained must be submitted to the state headquarters at once.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS

War demands alertness, a ready response to leaders, prompt action. Food problems are constantly changing and call for the immediate response of all America. Conservation is democratic, all may share, all may help.

Three times a day every American can say when he sits down to the table, "This is my chance to serve. Directions are given me by the Food Administration that I should follow and follow at once like a good soldier. If I fail, whether selfishly or ignorantly, I desert the colors of the nation fighting for democracy—I stab in the back the men we have sent to France."

Follow directions—emergency orders call for immediate action.
